Hiyas,

sorry for being so last minute but it occurred to me that probably what would be better is if, Marina, you could add the attached to the repository?

and then, Annie, if we could switch out that new link with this one:

Dunagan, P. J. (2020, Feb 20-22). Assembling evidence of the alternative: Roots and routes: Poetics at New College of California [Paper presentation]. Symposium on American Poetry. American Literature Association, Washington D.C. https://www.dispatchespoetrywars.com/wp-content/uploads/2020/03/Those-Missing-Emails-I-Failed-To-Send-red_reduce2.pdf

Hope this is doable! I didn't realize it could be an option...previously cheers,

patrick

Hi Patrick,

Just wanted to clarify, you want this uploaded only? Or do you still want me to contact Caesura and Rain Taxi about adding those articles to the repository too?

Also, I forgot to mention this previously but your book, Roots and Routes: Poetics at New College of California can be added to our Faculty Books section in the repository, this only puts up the metadata and abstract and then once we get a copy in the library we can link the repository page to the metadata in ignacio. It looks like we did this with your book There are people who think that painters shouldn't talk: A Gustonbook.

Let me know if this is something you'd like to do!

Best,

Marina

Hi Marina,

oh, okay... cool on the anthology that sounds great...& I was offering this in addition to the other two and as a better link to pair w/ my paper presentation since this is more my actual presentation...

sorry for my confusion on all this jazz!

Nice! Thanks! And no problem! I'm trying to set up a better workflow for all this so hopefully next time you have things to deposit it will be a smoother process :)
